CHARLEROI HIGH ADMINISTERS CRUSHING DEFEAT TO MONONGAHELA

Run Up Score of 34 Points
Against Down-River
Team

WELL PRIMED FOR THE GAME

The long looked for football game between Monongahela High and Charleroi High occurred at Quinn Park, New Eagle, last Saturday. There was a very satisfactory attendance, fully two hundred enthusiasts going from Charleroi. The day was a perfect one over head, but the ground was too soft and muddy for fast football, making "speedy" running practically impossible. Nevertheless, despite adverse conditions, several of the Charleroi boys pulled off plays which were beyond the ability of the Monongahelans to frustrate, as the final score indicated.

Monongahela was thoroughly primed for the occasion, as was also the local team. The ultimate result proved conclusively that the priming at least in the case of the losing team was more imaginary than real, because Charleroi proved victor by the one-sided score of 34-0. This is Charleroi's first football victory over Monongahela for several years, and the final whistle alone saved the home team from a more pronounced defeat.

Monongahela City has the material for a splendid team. The players are a most likely looking lot of athletes, but until promoters of football in that city's scholastic circles realize that building a team around one man, as has been done in the case of Cain, is not a profitable investment, conditions will scarcely improve. Cain, as all who have seen him in action will readily admit, is a capable footballer; but, inasmuch as the other ten players rely so much on Cain's doing certain things, they themselves remain more or less inactive in a measure, and, consequently, something goes amiss in the calculations. This certainly was the case in Saturday's game. Cain had been highly touted as a practically invincible line plunger, but he found his match in the Charleroi boys. He was slightly injured in the first quarter, but towards the close of the third quarter was carried from the field, having sustained a further injury of his knee.

Charleroi, on the other hand, played strong and consistent football, pulling off certain trick plays, and using good generalship, all of which completely confused their opponents. The fact that the local boys succeeded in crossing Monongahela's goal line five times, and administering to them one of the worst defeats of the season, is conclusive evidence of the kind of football played by Charleroi. Wagner was within a few feet of Monongahela's line when the final whistle blew, having been tackled there, after a well-earned gain, with but two seconds to play. "Peck" Webster, "Brownie" and Weaver were there with "bells on," the former atter some elusive running, crossing the goal line for three touchdowns while Brown and Weaver, by splendid line plunging, each registered a touchdown. Brown kicked four goals missing the fifth one, due to the muddy condition of the ball. Charleroi's line gave a splendid account of itself throughout the game, each player contributing in no small measure to the final complimentary result.

The Monongahela players consumed several sterling plays, but the work of the team, as a whole, lacked cohesion. They have the players, and next year Monongahela High ought to prove a foe worthy any aggregation in the circuit.

Charleroi's slogan now is "On to Donora," where the concluding game of the schedule will be played Thanksgiving morning. Should the locals win, they will be in line for the Valley county championship. Efforts are being made to secure a special contest of any kind, Fifth street covers have been left Fifth street at present, clock, going straight to the grounds, and returning after the game. Don't fail to be on hand. Let's send a rousing delegation to support the boys.

ATTEMPT MADE TO BURN FARMHOUSE

What is believed to have been a deliberate attempt to destroy the home of Alfred Montgomery a farmer, located about one and one-half miles east of Fayette City, occurred at 10 o'clock Saturday night. It was discovered that the outside of the kitchen had been saturated with kerosene oil and then fired. A reflection of the flames was seen by a couple of young men visiting at the home at the time, who rushed out to find that the house was on fire. Prompt work on their part, as well as by members of the family, soon subdued the flames and with but little damage to the building. No motive is known for the deed.

BIG MINE ON FIRE NEAR FAYETTE CITY

Fire was discovered at 2 o'clock this morning in the distant workings of the Fayette mine of the Lower Gas Coal Co., situated on the Elliott farm, about two miles south of Fayette City. How the fire originated is not known, but when discovered it had made great headway at the point of its inception, and means are now being taken to fight it. All of the entries are being bratticed off and all other openings closed, with a view of smothering the flames, and thus save the mine from destruction.

The Fayette mine was opened just before the late war, and is valued at about $1,500,000. The equipment is of the latest and most approved pattern, and for several months the mine has been producing at its capacity. A tram road had to be built by company from its mine to connect with the spur road of the Lake Erie at Gillespie. The principal stockholders of the company are R. C. Crawford and Julian Kennedy, both of Pittsburgh and William Bird is the superintendent.

TEAMS BATTLE TO A SCORELESS TIE

Saturday afternoon the Charleroi Shamrocks and the Logan Jrs. of North Charleroi battled to a 0 to 0 tie. The Shamrocks are said to have outclassed their opponents from the start up to the final whistle, but could not produce the much needed punch to put the ball over in the second quarter the Shamrocks had the ball on the Logan's one-yard line, but a bad pass by Simms caused a fumble and they lost their golden opportunity. The ball was then kicked to the center of the field where it remained for the remainder of the game. Shamrock's goal was never in danger.

The work of Behrendt featured for the Shamrocks, while Demarco starred for the Logans. The Shamrocks claim the local championship, and would like to meet the Logans again to decide the question of supremacy. Manager John Mangano is trying to book the Campe club or the Charleroi Tigers for next Saturday.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Desantis and Julius Desantis of Monessen.

Mr. and Mrs. William Faulks and children and Miss Grace Phillips spent Saturday in Pittsburgh.

TO CLOSE SEASON WITH BIG BANQUET

The bowling tournament between teams captained by Arch Osborne and Robert Hess, known as the "Bear Cats" and the "Wild Cats," will begin this evening at 7 o'clock at the Elk bowling parlors. This tournament will close on the evening of December 10th, and it is important that all members who are not yet entered have their names placed on the list, which is on the bulletin board in the club room.

Starting this evening there will be something doing every night until the close of the sports, bowling, billiards, pool and pinocle. After the close of the tournament on December 10th the games will be finished down to one big night of sports for the final match game between Capt. Osborne's and Capt. Hess' team. Total pins in the three games to decide the match.

On this night the best bowlers of the club will oppose each other on the two teams, and this promises to be one of the most exciting contests of the winter.

On December 14 comes the big doings. A banquet will be served in the Elks' dining room to all members who participate in the tournament. The committee is at work on the schedule for the last half of the bowling season, which will begin possibly on the 3rd of January. Twelve clubs will likely compose the league, and all players are requested to register for the various teams.

Timely Discovery of Blaze Saves Building After Being Damaged

WAS OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN

Prompt action on the part of a train crew on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad was instrumental in saving the Rostraver school house situated in Rostraver township, Westmoreland county, about 200 yards above the Monessen end of the river bridge, from destruction by fire.

The fire was discovered by the train crew about 8 o'clock Saturday evening last, which immediately turned in an alarm, and a prompt response was made by members of the crew as well as by citizens.

When the volunteer fire fighters arrived on the scene they found the weather boarding in a blaze, having caught from a fire which had been placed at the corner of the building, where temporary stone fire placed had been erected by parties unknown. The Monessen and Charleroi fire departments were also summoned, but the outside blaze was under control when they arrived. However, it was discovered that the fire had gotten between the weather boarding and the plaster, and it was necessary to tear off some of the outside sheathing in order to get at the blaze. When an opening was made the fire companies used their chemicals and soon put out the fire. The damage will amount to about $100. The fire was evidently of an incendiary origin.

Fires of this character have been so numerous of late that State authorities are conducting a series of investigations with a view of running down the culprits. The State Police are being utilized in this work, but what information has been secured is being kept under cover for the time being. In Ligonier township, Westmoreland county, three school houses have been destroyed by fire within the past month, and these in connection with the fires in Fayette and Washington counties, as well as the first Saturday night at the Rostraver school, is causing a great deal of uneasiness in many localities. It is said that some school houses are being guarded every night against a possible loss from fire, these precautionary measures being deemed advisable at the present time.

$500,000,000 A YEAR FOR DISCUSSIONS

There has been an unfortunate attempt by some parties in Europe to create the impression that the debt owed the United States is not really a debt at all, but should be cancelled as part of our contribution to the cost of the war," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its president Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "The conversion of the debt into bonds with a definite rate and maturity date would go far to dispel that illusion."

Word comes from London to the effect that the Germans have delivered to the reparations commission under the Versailles treaty bonds to the amount of 60,000,000,000 gold marks, worth $3,000,000,000 at the present rate of exchange or approximately $15,000,000,000 at the normal rate of exchange of American and English currency. That means that England, France and the other allies have got specific acknowledgement of a large portion of the debt which Germany owes them, to take the place of the rather indefinite I. O. U.'s contained in the peace treaty signed by only two Germans. It means that the allies will begin to draw interest on those bonds, and that they can be presented for retirement at the dates specified therein. Furthermore it means that that amount of the German debt to the allies is now in negotiable shape and it is possible, if the allies choose to do so, to sell the bonds in the world's markets and realize cash upon them.

All of which should forcibly remind the American people of the huge debt owed by the allies to the United States, which now approximates $10,000,000,000. That debt is evidenced by the deposit in the Treasury of various promissory notes signed by ambassadors and ministers from the debtor countries at Washington. Those notes bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, but comparatively little of that interest has been paid. The Liberty Loan acts authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to exchange the demand notes held by him for long-term obligations of the debtor countries. For many months the Secretary has been engaged in discussions with those countries as to the terms of the exchange, and meanwhile the collection of interest on the debt has been deferred. It is intimated by the Secretary that no interest will be collected during the reconstruction period of two or three years from the spring of 1919.

Now, what does that mean to the American taxpayer? It means that he must contribute about $500,000,000 a year while the Treasury "discussions" are in progress, and until an agreement has been reached with debtor governments as to the terms of the long-term obligations we are expecting from them. Every man, woman and child in the country is to be taxed $5 a year while the exchange of opinions is taking place. That is one-eighth of the entire sum which the Secretary of the Treasury estimates as necessary to run the Government for the next year.

The Harriman National Bank of New York is engaged in a publicity campaign to urge the prompt exchange of the promissory notes now held into negotiable bonds, primarily to secure a direct and specific acknowledgement by each debtor government of the existence and validity of the debt, and also to establish a date in the near future when the payments may be expected and allowance made for them in estimating the revenues of the Treasury.

Of very pressing interest in the carrying of our tax laws is the need of realizing on the accounts due and from foreign sources because in the total that must be paid by the American taxpayers, a delicate undertaking of course for one which should show definite results at an early date. All the United States is asking is the application of the same principles that the allies themselves have applied to their German debt. The present administration has been at it for months with no tangible results. Let us hope that Republican diplomacy will meet with better success."

SYLVIA TAUGHT A LESSON

It is evident that the apostles of revolution in England are discouraged, and they have reason to be. The coal strike did not bring on a general strike, as was hoped, and the coal strike itself has been settled by agreements satisfactory to the miners but not at all satisfactory to the breeders of revolution who are in communication with the advised by the Bolsheviks of Russia. Sylvia Pankhurst's intercepted letter to her "dear comrade," Lenin, shows this discouragement. British labor is interested in its own immediate objects and does not take much stock in international Bolshevik movements. Sylvia Pankhurst warns Lenin not to be too sanguine, as the forces tending toward revolution in England "are not formidable yet."

Sylvia is fortunate to live in easy going England, for in any other country—the United States not excepted—she would probably go to jail now that she is known to be working with foreigners who plan the destruction of the government of her country. Her letter to Lenin shows that she is apprehensive even in England, but she makes it clear that if she does go to jail she will have the good sense not to hunger-strike. In the old militant suffragette days the government yielded when a fair prisoner tried to starve herself, but now it lets the hunger-striker die if he insists. She thought she could help overturn the British government with the aid of the Russian Bolsheviks, and, if arrested, that a hunger-strike would procure her release as it caused the release of her mother before her. But what has happened of late in Brixton prison has taught her a lesson—and a wholesome lesson it is for such as Sylvia.

Bernadetto Croce, the distinguished Italian educator, pointedly suggests that, instead of spending 2,000,000 lire to commemorate the 600th birthday of Dante, his countrymen celebrate by reading Dante's neglected works.

The cost of prize fighting has gone up too. The purse that Carpentier hopes to win and carry back to France will contain the snug sum of $500,000.

Evidently American toys have come to stay. Eighty per cent of the hundred million dollars' worth sold in this country last year was manufactured in the United States.

Coal Mine Gases.

The chief gases of coal mines are stated by Coal Age to be: Methane or marsh gas, sometimes called light carbureted hydrogen, carbon monoxide, the whitedamp of miners, and carbon dioxide, which, with nitrogen, forms the blackdamp. Hydrogen sulphide or sulphureted hydrogen occurs in limited quantities, as do the heavy hydrocarbons—ethylene or olefant gas, and ethane. Except carbon dioxide and nitrogen, these gases are all explosive.

Had Plenty of Time.

"Yes, boys," continued the steeple jack, who was telling "true and thrilling stories," "yes, I was working a clock tower one afternoon about twelve minutes to 6, when I slipped, slid down the roof and caught on the long hand of the clock. There I dangled while the town folks collected below. So I yell to 'em, 'Say you folks, go home to your suppers, it'll be close to half an hour before I drop.'"

Chief Seat of Iron Industry.

In the early days Massachusetts was the chief seat of the iron industry in the American colonies, the first successful blast furnace having been put in operation at Lynn in 1643. In 1790 Pennsylvania became the leading iron producing state, and maintained the supremacy for upward of a hundred years.

Fruit Color Is Sunlight.

The color of fruit is the result of chemical action, in which sunlight is transformed into red or yellow or orange or purple coloring matter. This chemical action takes place best when the alterations between the heat of day and the cold of night are most marked; in the fall, that is to say, with the spring closely following.

"Can your little baby brother talk yet?" a kindly neighbor inquired of a small lad. "No, he can't walk, and there ain't no reason why he should talk," was the disgusted reply. Snakes' Power Over Birds.

The bureau of biological survey states that snakes do not charm birds in the understood sense of the word, "charm." "The instinctive fear that a bird or small animal, such as a rabbit, has for a snake paralyzes the muscles of the bird or animal and prevents its escaping from the snake."

ALLEGED BANK ROBBER

TO BE PLACED ON TRIAL

On Tuesday in the criminal court at Washington, the only case listed for trial is that of John Hogan, charged with bank robbery. The commonwealth alleges that Hogan took part in the sensational robbery of the First National Bank of Finleyville, some months ago. Five men were in the gang and it is said they escaped with over $35,000 in money and bonds. They got away in an automobile and vanished completely. Some of the bonds later turned up in Detroit and two men were arrested there and are still under bail for trial.

Verdicts were returned in both cases that the deaths of the two men were accidental.

A LETTER FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Whose Serious Illness Was Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Carnett, Kas.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my only child. I got on two soon which caused serious female trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to be on my feet but very little and could not do my housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curbstone. One day one of your books was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many who had been helped by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. I began as though I felt relief after the second dose, so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten pound boy, and have had two more children since and my health has been fine. If I ever have trouble of any kind I am going to take your medicine for I give it all the praise for my good health. I always recommend your medicine to everyone I can."—Mrs. Eva E. Smart, Kansas.

MADE WITH MILK

Muffler for Airplane Engine.
The French airplane service has given its approval to a muffler which is said very effectively to suppress the noise of the engine so that it may pass near without observation.

Original Navel Orange Tree.
The original navel orange tree was brought from Brazil more than forty years ago and is now in a greenhouse of the department of agriculture in Washington.

Death to Him!
The American culture that lives on carrion is immune against all disease germs and is believed to be instrumental in spreading the bubonic plague.

Mutual Confidence Necessary.
No family ever prospered that indulged in constant bickering. No nation can prosper without mutual confidence and tolerance.—Exchange.

Measure by Smokes.
In the famous Tolima tobacco region of the Andes everybody gives distances by means of "tobaccos," or so many smokes of cigars.

Germ!
A cake of yeast consists of live egg-shaped bodies so tiny that 4,000 of them, placed end to end, would measure an inch.

Turn Purple.
No woman is so color blind that she can't notice a rival turning green with envy.—Cartoons Magazine.

Animal products were much used in medicine from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century. Dried mummy was a favorite remedy. The importation of mummy was an industry of some commercial importance and several writers of that day caution against the use of spurious mummy, giving directions as to what distinguishes the good from the poor product. There was much substitution, and one dealer was found to have done an extensive trade in bodies dried in imitation of the genuine article.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Art of Staining Glass.
Fifty years ago the old secret of staining glass, which was lost with the decline of art in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, was rediscovered and, with the aid of chemistry, has made remarkable progress. This is shown by the fact that today the glass-stainer disposes of more than 5,000 different pigments, while in the twelfth century, the golden age of glass staining, only 12 colors were known.

Choice of Subject.
Invention in painting does not imply the invention of the subject, for that is commonly supplied by the poet or historian. With respect to the choice, no subject can be proper that is not generally interesting. . . . There must be something, either in the action or in the object, in which men are universally concerned, and which powerfully strikes upon the public sympathy.—By Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Good Old Copybook Machine
Some Can Remember.

There is a certain man in our employ who is not in a very responsible position at present.

Some day he will be and the "gang" will ask: "Where did he get his pull?"

He's putting pressure on the rope right now and every day the pressure is getting stronger.

He's here early and he goes home late; in fact we do not think he knows anything about working hours.

He's doing more than his present position requires and has already worked out of two jobs that have been given him. You can't keep him down.

He studies at night, reads, and, best of all, uses his head at all times.

He makes many mistakes, but only makes the same mistake once.

But he goes ahead and does things. Doesn't wait until he's told, but looks ahead.

Wonderful thing this looking ahead, and more wonderful still, you don't have to look very far ahead to make yourself different from the rest of the "gang."

He smiles easily and is cheerful. We've never heard him even suggest that any one was "trying to get him."

He is too busy to think about it and the crowd who might be trying to do it are not going fast enough to even bother him.

He isn't a hundred per cent yet, but he's coming along fast, and some day you are going to say "Why did he get that job?"—Fore River Log.

Trying To Get Along With Low Vitality and Weak Blood

NOT FAIR TO THEMSELVES

Pepto-Mangan Builds Rich Red Blood and Restores Strength

If you want to succeed in your work—to get to the top, look first to your health. Be physically fit. Keep your blood in good condition.

If your blood is bad, you lose enthusiasm. Little things bother you. Instead of concentrating on your work, you drowse. You try to pull yourself together. It takes all your energy to do just average work.

Perhaps your blood has become clogged with poisons. You are just beginning to feel it. You need the good blood tonic, Pepto-Mangan. It contains ingredients that feed your blood and purify it. You get more red corpuscles. Then your energy comes back and you eat better, feel better, and look better. It shows in your daily work. You get things done without exhausting yourself. You get back to normal—the way you should be.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is "Gude's." It is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Ask your druggist for "Gude's" and look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan. Adv.

"Grand Old Party"

The term "Grand Old Man" was applied to Mr. Gladstone in 1882 and is accredited to John Bright, who used it in a speech that year in Northampton, England. In America the phrase was appropriated and changed by members of the Republican party, who affectionately called it the "Grand Old Party." This at once became a newspaper slogan and in the headlines was shortened to "G. O. P."

How We Got Collars.

It is about a hundred years since the collar came into being as a commercial proposition. It has been suggested that the necklace of teeth or claws, or string of beads, with which our early ancestors adorned themselves, was the forerunner of the modern collar.

The Eye of the Cat.

As showing how widely the permanently blue eyes of cats differ from other eyes, it is noted that immediately the eyes of white cats that are to have permanently blue eyes open they shine brightly in the dark. No other colored eye does this.

Might Charge the Valet.

A South Wales innkeeper charged with trapping birds was found to be wearing three coats. As this might have been due to an oversight on the part of his valet it was not included in the charge.—Punch, London.

Literal Truth.

On a crowded transport going to France, the men had to sleep where they could find room. One of them, lying on the deck, said to his buddy: "Talk about your hardships! This is the hardest ship I was ever on."

What I Owe to My Parents.

"One good mother is worth a hundred schoolmasters." The truth of this time honored proverb is borne out by the tributes which successful men pay to the influence of their mothers.

Power Part to Replace Sugar.

Since the French sugar ration was increased and restaurants have resumed serving it, Paris women are converting their sugar boxes into powder-puff cases. The carrying of sugar in little gold boxes was a fashionable war fad. The new use for the boxes is said to have originated with a Rue de la Paix jeweler who saw in the rising sugar ration a decline in the demand for his wares.

Man's Debt to the Horse.

Not only has the horse inhabited the earth for many millions of years, but throughout the ages he has made the world ring with tales of equine valor. From Pegasus, the winged steed, who aided Bellerophon in slaying the monster, Chimaera, down to the 16,000,000 horses which helped the allies to win the World war, they have served man well, and oftentimes purchased his safety with their lives.

Feeble Over-sensitiveness.

A great deal of discomfort arises from oversensitiveness about what people may say about you or your actions. Many unhappy persons seem to imagine that they are in an amphitheater, with the assembled world as spectators, whereas they are playing to empty benches all the while.

No Really White Silk.

There is no such thing as pure white silk. There are three colors of so-called white silk, oyster, which is sometimes called pure white, though it has a slight blue tinge; ivory, which has a tinge of pale yellow, and cream, in which the yellow tone can be plainly seen.

Origin of Slang.

Slang originated from the gypsy tongue. It used to be a secret language of that race. It is by no means of modern date, being well known in the classic ages of Greece and Rome.

Preserves Poland's Traditions.

The members of the Kachawbe race are said to preserve the language and customs of the Poles from time immemorial. They refuse to be corrupted by modernism in any shape.
